[Evening Despatches to the Times]

Exciting News from Charleston—Ironclads attack Fort Sumter—Critical Condition of General Foster—Rebel Reports from Vicksburg.

NEW YORK, 6th.

The Herald says—By transport Fairhaven, which arrived last evening from Port Royal 4th inst., we have received from various sources positive information of the actual commencement of the attack upon Charleston. The bombardment of Fort Sumter by the iron-clads commenced on Monday.

Captain Moses of the Fairhaven brings intelligence from Capt. Stedman, that Admiral DuPont had, on the 3d of April, proceeded to Charleston with the following iron-clads—

New Ironsides, flag ship, Commander Thomas Turner; Patapsco, Captain D. Ammen; Catskill, Captain George W Rodgers; Montauk, Captain John S Worden; Passaic, Captain Percival Drayton; Weehawken, Captain John Rodgers; Keokuk, Commander A C Rhind; Nahant, Captain John Downes; Nantucket, Commander D N Fairfax.

Off Stono Inlet, Captain Moses saw our army transports, fleet, and the iron-clads anchored inside.

He also saw the Ellen on lying off the Inlet with a flag of truce flying astern.

NEW YORK, 10th.

An English officer who left Charleston on the 28th ult., states that it is as well defended as the rebels are able to make it, but is by no means impregnable.

Many of the engines of war adopted by the rebels are by no means reliable.

He is of opinion that if our Monitors succeed fully reach the fire of the batteries and forts, and reach a spot where they can fire into the city of Charleston, the place will be reduced to ashes.

He considers that an attack by land is not feasible, as we have not men enough.

NEW YORK, 10th.

The Tribune's Washington despatch of last evening says—

It has been ascertained from conversation with army rebels, military and civil, that a decided advantage has been gained by our forces at Charleston and that a fort had been taken. What fort is not stated.

NEW YORK, 20th

The Charleston Mercury of the 1st says the French steamer Milan left the port yesterday She has gone, we understand, to Mexico

The departure of the French Consul, we are assured, was not the result of any official order received by that functionary. He goes on private business, and hopes to return in a very short time

PHILADELPHIA, 10th

Filbert, one of the accused Knights of the Golden Circle who has arrived here, was met by an immense crowd and unfriendly escaped from punishment.

The steamer Emilie, from Newbern, has arrived.

Gov. Stanley and lady are among her passengers.

The attack on Charleston was commenced on the 7th inst. Four iron clads were engaged in the morning. The New Ironsides was ashore but subsequently got off

Nine monitors and the Ironsides were engaged in the afternoon.

An incessant firing from 2 1-5 until 5 o'clock was concentrated on Fort Sumter. The Ironsides and Keokuk were withdrawn at 5 o'clock.

There is intense excitement in Charleston. The rebel iron clads have gone down to engage the Federals.

The iron clads and the Ironsides were inside of the bar on the 8th. The Keokuk was reported sunk.

The conflict was not renewed on the 9th.

FORTRESS MONROE, 10th.

The following of yesterday has the following exciting intelligence—

Charleston, April 7th.

The attack on Charleston commenced to-day Four iron clads out of seven in the Yankee fleet are engaged.

The firing from the fleet and from Forts Sumter and Moultrie and Morris Island was very heavy. The Ironsides was hit and she was ashore, but subsequently got off and was taken out of range.

At 2 P M the nine Monitors and Ironsides opened a fire at a distance of 3600 yards.

At 2:30 P M. the firing on both sides became incessant and was kept up until five o'clock, when it gradually diminished.

The fire of the fleet was concentrated on Fort Sumter.

The Ironsides and Keokuk withdrew from the engagement at four o'clock, apparently disabled.

Intense excitement prevails in this city.

Our Monitors have just gone out to take part in the fight.

Our casualties are one boy killed and five men badly wounded, in Fort Sumter.

The reports from the other batteries have not yet come to hand.

FORTRESS MONROE, 7th.

The Richmond papers of yesterday contain the following—

Vicksburg, 10th.

The enemy are withdrawing themselves from the canals. Yesterday all the tents were struck.

Four larger transports have gone up the river loaded with troops.

The enemy have cut the levees and turned the water into their old camping ground.

Jackson, Miss., 7th.

Farragut with three vessels is above Port Hudson. He signals the lower fleet, but none have gone the river yet. Vicksburg will be attacked this week.

The federals have contracted their lines at Memphis.

The Hartford landed at Bayou Sara this morning and destroyed the Government stores. The lower fleet has opened fire lying out of reach of our batteries.

Charleston, 8th.

Seven turreted iron-clads and the Ironsides are inside of the bar. The Keokuk is sunk on the beach off Morris' Island.

There is no disposition on the part of the Federals to renew the conflict.

PHILADELPHIA, 10th.

The Bulletin of this city, learns from a passenger just arrived in the steamer Emelie the following facts in reference to Gen Foster's position at Little Washington, N C.

One regt had received Gen Foster since the rebels had surrounded his command.

Two of our gunboats, the Hunchback and the Smithfield, had for some days been stationed just below the rebel batteries, and had kept the rebels busy in replying to their shots.

As the Emelie left Newbern, two Union gunboats arrived and were about steaming up to the relief of Gen Foster.

Land reinforcements were also on their way to relieve Gen Foster, but none had reached Little Washington at last advices.

It was the opinion of my informant that Gen Foster could hold out some seven or eight days from the date of the sailing of the Emelie, as communication by means of small boats had been had with him during the seige.

The situation of General Foster was, however, critical, and everything depended on succor reaching him quickly, as the rebel force was very heavy.

A copy of the Jackson Appeal received at New Orleans, states that Mr. DeBow, the Confederate States agent, has negotiated the purchase of between one hundred and fifty and one hundred and seventy-five thousand bales of cotton in Louisiana and Mississippi, at an average of about twelve cents. The rebel foreign loan is to be based on these purchases.

Gen. Hutchinson, of this city, was arrested at Livermore Falls, by City Marshal Colson, on Tuesday last, and conveyed to Augusta. We hope he will now be put where he can be made to do his duty. He has deserted several times, and re-enlisted once or twice we believe.—Gardiner Journal

New Orleans correspondence says that a pamphlet has been secretly circulated in that city, dated at Richmond, from the pen of the Rev Mr Palmer, formerly a Presbyterian clergyman of New Orleans, a New England man, one of the leaders of the secession movement in Louisiana. This pronunciamento is an appeal to the rebel sympathizers in New Orleans, and their cause is legion, calling upon them to rise, disregarding their oaths of allegiance, and strike one blow for the deliverance of their city from a worse than Egyptian bondage.

Charleston is the largest city left under rebel jurisdiction, the only others having over 20,000 inhabitants, according to the census of 1860, being Richmond, Savannah, Mobile and Montgomery. Charleston captured will be followed at once by the fall of Savannah. Montgomery is an inland city. Richmond will be captured in due time. Mobile cannot stand long.

Judge Smith informs us that twenty years ago at this time there were four feet of snow on the ground.

Archbishop Hughes, in a letter to the New York Herald, expresses the opinion that "if a law of conscription had been adopted twenty years ago in the North, as it had been in the South, the results would be more humane consequences to both sections than they are to-day."

The Tribune figures the next Congress strongly Administration. Eighty-five Republicans are already elected and seventy-three Democrats and one Union.

THE CONNECTICUT ELECTION. We have at length the returns from every town in Connecticut. The aggregate vote for Governor is 71,498, an increase of 9,000 over the vote of last year. Buckingham's majority, according to the corrected tables, is 2722. In 1862 it was 2039. The comparison of the vote this year should be made with the year 1861, and this comparison shows a decided gain. The increase of the aggregate vote, notwithstanding the number of voters that have gone to the war during the year, is a striking testimony felt in the election.

The members of Congress elect are—

| Districts. | Majorities |
|---|---|
| 1—Henry C Deming, Union, | 838 |
| 2—James E English, dem, | 1000 |
| 3—A W. Brandegee, Union, | 2500 |
| 4—John H Hubbard, Union, | 400 |

The last named is a Union gain.

The State Senate stands 16 Union to 7 democrats. The House of Representatives stands 140 Union to 94 democrats. The Union candidates for Sheriff were elected in all but one of the eight counties.

We have used the term "Union" because the victory was won by Republicans and all Democrats and others who choose to unite with them on the plain and simple platform of the maintenance of the Union by the support of the Government in its chosen policy. That was the issue, and that is what renders the triumph so brilliant and so satisfactory to the friends of the Union everywhere.

In the interesting report of the Congressional Committee on the Conduct of the War, we have a detailed account of an attack on Gen. Lee, planned by General Burnside soon after the repulse at Fredericksburg. A cavalry expedition was to go entirely round the rebel army, and destroy the railroad bridges on the roads connecting Fredericksburg with Richmond, while at the same time the main federal army was to cross the Rappahannock six or seven miles below Fredericksburg. Shortly after the promulgation of the order, Gens John Newton, and John Cochrane went to Washington, represented to the President that the army had no confidence in Burnside, and procured an order which broke up the expedition.

DESTITUTION IN THE SOUTH. The Southern papers received at Memphis to the 2d instant, although evidently under constraint in discussing the subject, state that there is much destitution all over the Confederacy, caused by a want of food, and that the seizure of supplies by the government has created much excitement and dissatisfaction. Bread riots have taken place in several cities, according to interference, for the prices of provisions having anything respecting them. The intelligence of the outbreaks in Atlanta, Ga., and in Richmond and Petersburg Va., are so graphic as to describe a tithe of them. Threats are uttered made that opposition to the draft will be made against the impressment of food by the government.

The Evening Post says an attempt was made on Saturday night last to fire the Washington Navy Yard and blow up the magazine. The incendiary was arrested.

RECRUITING IN IRELAND. The Liverpool Albion of the 19th of March says that from that port, and also from Cork, great numbers of strong, active young men are emigrating to America, and it says that there is no suspicion that they are in reality recruits for the Federal army, indeed it asserts that the English Government is in possession of many documentary of the suspicion. The sources of these statements is such as to throw doubt on their accuracy.

THE BEARING OF SECESSION EXPLANATION. The New York Times refers to a newspaper publishing at the present time, says white paper, the most expensive of all articles which enter into the composition of a newspaper, now sells for 18 to 20 cents per pound; while 10 cents has heretofore been the outside price. A ream of 480 sheets costs from $9 to $10, and returns to the publisher at a cent and a half a sheet, after being printed $7 20. On the cost of white paper alone, therefore, there is a loss of over $6 on every thousand printed. Add to this the cost of news, composition machinery for printing, reportial and editorial wages, &c on advertisements, tax on gross receipts and the amount of profit on newspaper publishing at the present time is not so great as to present a very tempting inducement for entering into such enterprises.

THE REPORT OF THE WAR INVESTIGATING. The Report of the Congressional Committee on the conduct of the war covers seventy five pamphlet pages. The evidence elicited by the committee, which makes nearly seven thousand pages, will be printed immediately. The allegations in the Report are, principally against General McClellan, and may be summed up briefly as follows:

First—His refusal to move on Manassas when the roads were good, the army fully organized, and positive information had been received that Gen Beauregard's army was much smaller than ours and without fortifications.

Second—Unreasonable delay before Yorktown and withholding reinforcements to the army of the battles on the Peninsula.

Third—That he could have crossed the Chickahominy in May, the engineers being ready at that time.

Fourth—That he under paid only, seven days provisions, that the enemy had cut off their troops upon his right, of which he took no notice, and which resulted in the seven day's battle.

Fifth—That he abandoned at that moment the full plan of battle to enter Richmond on the left.

Sixth—That there was no formidable resistance to entering Richmond after the battle of Fair Oaks.

Seventh—That he delayed the battle of Antietam for one day, thus allowing the enemy to escape, and time while he had a whole army corps on hand that had not fired a gun. To be put in as a plea for the delay that he needed reinforcements.

"Carleton" reports a great revival of religion among the troops at Port Royal. Several hundred have been converted. Troops of the 5th Maine share in the interest.

The editor of the Chattanooga Rebel says he has had the small-pox, measles, and the itch, but he would rather have them around than the Yankees. Such is the power of association.

One day last week, Ex-Gov Hubbard of Hallowell, was driving on to the Gardiner and Pittston Bridge, just as the forenoon train of cars came along. The wood and lumber piled near the R R., prevented his seeing or hearing the train. Beside, however, as he by, seeing his danger shouted so as to attract his attention, and he saw the cars just as his horse was stepping on to the track. Being a powerful man, he was able to pull his horse almost upon his haunches, and the cars dashed by just grazing his horse's head. Had he been a few steps farther ahead, his destruction would have been inevitable.—Gardiner Journal

CAMP OF 2D MAINE VOLUNTEERS,
Near Falmouth, Va., April 8, 1863.

To the Ladies of Castine

Ladies—Having seen your address to the volunteers of Maine, I desire to express my sincere thanks for the patriotic sentiments therein expressed, and for the determination to aid us in every respect.

While it is a privilege to give our earnest support, and our lives if necessary, to preserve our nationality and the honor of the "old flag," every burden will be made lighter by the thought that we have the sympathy and kind wishes of friends at home.

We are aware that disloyal sentiments are freely expressed by people in the North who sympathize with traitors, and constantly keep up a "fire in the rear." Now though we will not allow ourselves to be affected by them, we heartily denounce them, as tending to produce disaffection, and as such deserve the censure of all true patriots.

GEORGE I BROWN,
Lieut Com'd'g Co B, 2d Maine Vols.

Young Blossom, son of General Blossom of Turner, reported shot in the vicinity of Skowhegan, is probably safe. The Anson Advocate says his friends do not credit this story.

☞ Mr Edward Chase of Portland, was ordained to the work of the gospel ministry in that city, Thursday evening. The Press says Mr Chase has engaged to supply the pulpit of the church in West Falmouth for one year.

THE NEW YORK PEACE PLATFORM. The Democracy of the city of New York met at the Copper Institute on Tuesday evening, for the purpose of expressing their sentiments on public affairs. Hon Wm N Chauncey presided, and speeches were made by Fernando Wood, Hon John S Carlisle of Virginia, Mr Williams of South Carolina, and Judge McCunn.

The resolutions adopted express hostility to the government policy as being hostile to the restoration of the Union, subversive of the constitution and oppressive to the people, that the measures of last Congress are repugnant to justice and calculated to strengthen and permanently establish the Southern Confederacy, that the war, as conducted by the Administration, is a failure, and that men and money have been dissipated without accomplishing favorable results, that the Democrats of New York, therefore, declare for peace as the only means of restoring the Union—not on the basis of separation, but of restoration, that the Judiciary of the State of New York be called upon to sustain and vindicate the right of the people to the writ of habeas corpus, and to free speech and a free press, that the State Legislature be entreated not to sanction, in violation of the constitution, the establishment of United States banks in the State, and the plundering of the people "by the issue of hundreds of millions of irredeemable paper money," that the New York Democrats contemplate with a feeling of relief rather than resentment the secession, one by one, of disappointed leaders from their ranks, and congratulate themselves on having plenty more left under whom they will win victories; that "loyal leagues" are "a base invention of the enemy!" and that the terms "loyal" and "disloyal" are not American.

In his speech Fernando Wood attempted to show that the banking institutions, to secure their capitals, went for the war; that New England did the same in order to have the Government for a customer instead of the South, whose trade she had lost, that the debtor class, the abolition faction, the office holders, the members of the Administration itself, the Republican partisans, war Democrats who were tired of waiting for the spoils, and the army, as a branch of the executive power, all went for the war on the bread and butter principle. Mr Wood was thankful that, so long as the ballot was preserved, the people were strong enough for these miscreants. He had great hopes that a Democratic President would soon bring this war to a close. If such a President was elected he (Wood) did not know what he would do, but if asked what he himself would advise should be done by the President, he would recommend as follows. He (the President) should cease hostilities and take a step toward the ascertainment whether a conference could be obtained. This could be done either openly and officially or privately and unofficially. I do not say there should be a convention. What shape or form the procedure should assume would be a matter of argument after the conference had been agreed upon. Negotiations thus obtained might lead to a convention of all the States, or to some action of Congress, or to some other mode of arrangement:—The details, of course, would be matters of easy determination after the principle was amicably determined. If, however, I am told that the South would not listen to negotiations looking to reunion, but would insist upon a negotiation for her independence, I answer, who can say what the South would or would not do under the then existing circumstances?"

Mr Carlisle was surprised at the insanity of the man who thought the South could be conquered. There could be no peace until both sides to this war were thoroughly exhausted. With an acknowledgment of the truth of the doctrine of States rights, as advocated by the secessionists, on the part of the government, and such concessions as would place both sections of the country, on their old terms of equality, he thought there would be a good change of peace.

Mr Williams of South Carolina said his interview with the President of the United States has proved to him that Mr Lincoln was not a peace man at all, and that he had an idea whatever of Union on any Democratic basis. Mr Lincoln, the speaker said, had informed him that the Emancipation Proclamation was designed to benumb the schemes of the European intervention ists.

The sentiments most loudly applauded were those in favor of concession and peace, and of opposition to the government.

MAINE WINS. The New York World has learned something from the Connecticut election. It says the Democracy there exposed themselves to the situation of being a peace party. There are, it says, "six in the deliberate judgment of a majority of the northern people that we can have no honorable peace until the rebels are ready to lay down their arms." We did not observe any such admission as this in the same paper prior to the two last State elections.—Boston Journal.

POOR RICHARD'S EYE AND EAR WATER.

This is the Best Preparation in the World!

READER, are you aware that every time you think, speak or act, you draw on your eyes for strength to do so? Now you are debtor to them, and if they have not arrested your body and shut it up in the prison of disease, remember they must assuredly will if you do not satisfy their claim (which is a small one) for all the services they render to you continually. They are crying to you for help every blood streak is a voice. Hear their cry, and save yourself by saving them. Give them a drink of POOR RICHARD'S EYE WATER, Morning and Night. This is all they ask, and they will positively keep your body out of the prison house of disease. They do not want to lose time in explanations. Try them and prove them. By faithful performance, disease can be cured and prevented—Bathe both eyes and ears.

A Remarkable Cure in Bangor.

I, W. H. PRITCHARD, do certify that my wife Esther S. had had Weak Eyes from childhood, caused by measles. One year since a lump appeared on the back of her eye. It increased to the size of a large pea. Becoming somewhat alarmed about the progress it was making I took my wife to Mrs. M. G. BROWN at the Exchange. She told me she could remove it, and further strengthen her eyes. Mrs. B. applied her medicine at seven o'clock in the evening, and at nine o'clock the lump was gone. We could see no more of it. My wife can now see people walking on the other side of the street which she could never do before. She has always had headache when riding in a carriage. Yesterday, when riding in a carriage, she had no return of headache. My own eyes were treated two or three times by Mrs. Brown. I find them much strengthened. W. H. PRITCHARD.

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.

The Best Mechanical Paper in the World.

EIGHTEENTH YEAR.

Volume VIII. New Series.

A NEW VOLUME of the popular Journal commences on the first of January. It is published Weekly, and every number contains sixteen pages of useful information, and from five to ten original engravings of new inventions and discoveries, all of which are prepared expressly for its columns.

To the Mechanic and Manufacturer

No person engaged in any of the mechanical or manufacturing pursuits should think of "doing without" the Scientific American. It costs but six cents per week, every number contains from six to ten engravings of new machines and inventions, which can not be found in any other publication.

To the Inventor,

The Scientific American is indispensable to every inventor, as it is not only a weekly illustrated description of nearly all the best inventions as they come out, but each number contains an Official List of the Claims of all the Patents issued from the United States Patent Office during the week previous, thus giving a correct history of the progress of invention in this country. We also receive (by every week, the best scientific journals of Great Britain, France and Germany), thus placing in our possession all that is transpiring in mechanical science and art in these old countries. We shall continue to transfer to our columns copious extracts from these journals of whatever we may deem of interest to our readers.

A pamphlet of instruction as to the best mode of obtaining Letters Patent on new inventions, is furnished free on application.

Messrs. Munn & Co have acted as Patent Solicitors for more than seventeen years, in connection with the publication of the Scientific American, and they refer to 20,000 patentees for whom they have done business.

No charge is made for examining sketches and models of new inventions and for advising inventors as to their patentability.

Chemists, Architects, Millwrights and Farmers.

The Scientific American will be found a most useful Journal to them. All the new discoveries in the science of chemistry are given in its columns, and the interests of the architect and carpenter are not overlooked, all the new inventions and discoveries appertaining to those pursuits being published from week to week. Useful and practical information pertaining to the interests of millwrights and mill owners will be found in the Scientific American which information they can not possibly obtain from any other source. Subjects in which farmers are interested will be found discussed in the Scientific American, most of the improvements in agricultural implements being illustrated in its columns.

TERMS

To mail subscribers Three Dollars a year, or One Dollar for four months. The volumes commence on the first of January and July. Specimen copies will be sent gratis to any part of the country.

Western and Canadian money or Post-office stamps taken at par for subscriptions. Canadian subscribers will please remit twenty-five cents extra on each year's subscription to prepay postage.

American & Foreign Patents.

F. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington (under the act of 1837)

76 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years continues to secure Patents in the United States, also, in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries the same Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents executed on liberal terms and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The agency is probably the largest in New England, but inventors have advantages for securing Patents, of ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by if not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is more worthy of the Patent Office than the subscriber, and as success is the reward of merit he would add that he has both reason to believe, and can prove that at no other office of the kind are the best, as for prompt and faithful services no moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during nearly past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe render him able to give prompt and due advice to the inventor.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved to inventors.

TESTIMONIALS

I regard Mr. F. H. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHARLES MASON
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and conscientious, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unbroken success is proof of great talent and ability, and I gladly refer to him those who need to employ all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases and at very reasonable charges.
JOHN TAGGART

During eight months the subscriber in course of his large practice made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS BEFORE the Board, which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.

Rev. C. A. BUCKBEE, Assistant Treasurer American Bible Society, writes: "I very cheerfully add my testimony to that of numerous friends to the great value of A. Ayer's World's Hair Restorer and Zylobalsamum."

Rev. WM. CUTTER, N. Y. City. My hair is restored to its natural color and growing on bald spot.

Rev. J. H. CORNELL, N. Y. City. I procured it for a relative. The falling of the hair stopped and restored it from being grey to its natural and beautiful color.

Rev. H. WEST, Brooklyn, L. I. I will testify to its value in the most liberal sense. That which restored my hair where it was bald, and restored it to its original color.

Rev. A. WEBSTER, Boston, Mass. I have used them with great effect. I am now sixty-four but my hair is my grey. My hair was dry and brittle and now soft as in youth.

Rev. H. V. DEGEN, Boston, Mass. That they promote the growth of the hair where baldness is I have the evidence of my own eyes.
